

COSME Chair 2015

Laura Hospido (Bank of Spain) is an economist at the Research Division of the Bank of Spain. She received her Ph.D. in Economics in 2007 at CEMFI and University of Santiago de Compostela. Her main research interests include Microeconometrics and Empirical Labor Economics. She is interested in the relation between wage dynamics and work histories, as well as in the statistical properties of relevant estimation methods.

Vicechair 2015

Nagore Iriberry (Universidad del País Vasco) did her PhD at the University of California in San Diego. She got tenured at the University Pompeu Fabra and currently she is an Ikerbasque Researcher at the University of the Basque Country. She works on behavioral and experimental economics.

New committee members 2015

Irma Clots-Figueras (Carlos III) received her PhD from the London School of Economics. She works on Development Economics, Labor Economics, Public Economics, and Political Economy. She has published in multiple journals, including AEJ: Applied, AEJ: Policy, Journal of Public Economics, JEEA, etc.

Rosa Ferrer (Universitat Pompeu Fabra) received her PhD from Vanderbilt University. Her research focuses on the areas of Law and Economics and Industrial Organization. She has published in the Review of Economic Studies and the European Economic Review.

Other committee members 2015

Caterina Calsamiglia (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona) is an associate professor at the Department of Economics at UAB and an affiliated professor at the Barcelona GSE and research fellow at MOVE. She obtains her PhD in 2005 from Yale University. Her major research areas are in Public Economics. She has worked on issues concerning equality of opportunities, affirmative action, and school choice among others.

Libertad González (Universitat Pompeu Fabra) is an associate professor at Universitat Pompeu Fabra and an affiliated professor at the Barcelona GSE. She received her PhD from Northwestern University in 2003, and works in Labor and Public Economics, particularly on topics related to female labor force participation, fertility, and divorce. She has published in the AEJ: Policy and the Journal of Human Resources, among others.

Matilde Machado (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid) is an associate professor at the Department of Economics of Universidad Carlos III de Madrid. She obtained her PhD in Economics from Boston University. Her research has been published in the Journal of Econometrics, the Journal of the European Economics Association, the International Economics Review, the Journal of Health Economics, and the European Journal of Health Economics.

Pedro Rey Biel (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona) is an associate professor at the Department of Economics at UAB, an affiliated professor at the Barcelona GSE and a research fellow at MOVE. He received his PhD from University College London in 2005. His main research interests are in Behavioral and Experimental Economics, where he has mainly focused on incentives and competition under asymmetric conditions, with a particular interest in gender's different performance under competition.

Virginia Sánchez-Marcos (Universidad de Cantabria) received her PhD from Universidad Carlos III de Madrid. Some of Virginia's research has focused on female labor supply, with papers published in the American Economic Review, the Journal of the European Economic Association, and the Review of Economic Dynamics. She has also contributed to the literature on pension systems.

Marcos Vera Hernández (UCL) received his PhD from Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona. His research focuses on health economics, both in developed and developing countries. He has studied issues related to health insurance, child health, and cognitive development during childhood. He is carrying out experiments in China, Nigeria and Nepal, in order to study how different incentive systems can be used to improve maternal and infant health. He has published in the American Economic Journal: Applied Economics, The Economic Journal, Journal of Health Economics, and The Rand Journal of Economics.